

SALSA On Ice Report: 30 November 2017

Drill Team Update

Weather: This fine stretch of Antarctic summer weather only needs to last one more day to get the drill team out on a flight to Christchurch, NZ. Sunny with an Easterly breeze at 8kts and a temperature of 27F/-3C at 19:00.

SALSA Drillers on Ice: Dar Gibson, Graham Roberts, Justin Burnett, Bob Zook.

Activities:

- The day was spent returning gear borrowed from various work centers, packing equipment and personal gear for redeployment and wrapping up projects and documentation.
- The team also had a productive discussion with John Priscu that covered this season as well as plans for the offseason and next year's field season.
- All four team members completed bag drag and flight prep at 20:30 and chances of flying north tomorrow look good.
